2.1 Scoring follows a standard whereby one hit on the target will be worth one point;

2.2 Half points, double points or increased values for increased difficulty are prohibited;

2.3 Bonus points will not be awarded as they may lead to competitive differences and not reward the most consistent shooters;

2.4 Deductions of points are unjustified as they may lead to competitive differences and not rewarding the most consistent shooters. Therefore, no scoring method will be implemented where the scorer(s) can be deducted a point(s). If a hostage is hit or the wrong target is hit, the item will be scored at 0 points;

2.5 Ammunition limits will be determined for each situation by the exact number of ammunition.

3. TIMEKEEPING UNDER AVO PS RULES (AVO PRACTICAL SHOOTING)

3.1 The time allowance is measured by a stopwatch (or timer) and will always be determined for each situation. If the time allowance expires before the shooter solves all the targets (the referee stops the shooter with the command „STOP“), then only the hits achieved by the shooter are counted. If the shooter solves all the targets within the time allotment, the shooter's time is recorded.

In case of a tie, the total time is shorter.

3.2 For all timed shooting situations, the referee shall make every effort to ensure that the timer is stopped at the last shot or at „STOP“. Shooters will automatically be given a time of 0.99 seconds, which means that if the shot was in phase 90.99 out of 90 seconds, the shooter met the time limit.

3.3 In the event of a tie, the total time is decisive.

3.4 Before leaving the shooting discipline, the shooter shall confirm by his/her signature in the evaluation sheet that he/she agrees with the achieved evaluation. A shooter can file a protest against the evaluation as long as he or she has not yet signed the evaluation sheet.

3.5 Later protests will not be taken into account. The protest is resolved on the spot by the referees, in disputed cases in cooperation with the main referee.

4. SHOOTOUT (Reshoots)

4.1 A full break means that the shooter goes through the entire procedure from start to finish;

4.2 A partial break means that the shooter is placed in exactly the same position as he was at the time of stopping, and the clock will have back the exact time that was left at the time of stopping. If the position or time remaining cannot be determined, the shooter must shoot the entire competition item again.

Repeated breaks are allowed only in the event of an interruption of the procedure that was beyond the shooter's control. This can include broken targets, situations not caused by the shooter, a broken obstacle, shooting support, or anything else that the referee deems a relevant situation. Shooters who are allowed a break must shoot again in the same way with exactly the same equipment.

5. REFEREES

The referee announces every hit („HIT“, „IMPACT“) this is the only word that can be used to let the shooter know that the target he was attacking has been hit and will be scored as a hit;

If the shooter misses the target, the referee is SILENT;

Referees are not allowed to mark shooters in any way for their shots during the procedure. It can make exceptions for security reasons – wrong targets, etc.

Approved repairs for safety reasons may only be made by referees, not by co-shooters. Each shooter who provides assistance during the procedure will receive a STAGE DQ.

Assisting shooters after the end of shooting is encouraged and allowed. If the observer picks up the impacts of the bullets, he can provide feedback to the shooter after the procedure is over.

In case of non-compliance with this rule, the referee may stop the shooter with a STOP signal if he evaluates the safety risk (barrel is pointing outside the safe area...) and the situation is rated 0 points. If the safety procedure is followed (the barrel was pointing to a safe area...), it is at the discretion of the referee whether to carry out only a WARNING.

8. RANKING OF INDIVIDUALS

Objectivity in the squad will be changed at each station as follows. Each shooter will start first in order at one of the stations and finish last at one of the stations. The change of order will take place in this way at all stations throughout the race. If the referee does not make a change in the order, the competitors will notify him to make the change.

8.1 In the case of a smaller number of situations (e.g. 2 instead of 4), Squads 1-2 and 3-4 will merge to form two Squads for two Stations. In this case, the referee calls the shooters in the order of first, last, second, penultimate, etc.

The situation will be handled in the same way if there is only one station.

9. TARGETS

The size and distance of the targets will always be communicated to the shooter at each station. At some stations, the targets will be at unknown distances.

The competition is designed to test a shooter's ability to precisely eliminate a target within a time limit, from forced or predetermined positions and positions. Effectively correct the climate and other factors influencing the accuracy of shooting and operatively evaluate and solve situations that arise. A high level of professionalism and sportsmanship is expected. All participants, including shooting range referees, shooters, and spectators, will always be treated with the utmost respect.
